In Memoriam

Philip Brent Cline Class Of 1969

A surge of light through morning's dawn;
We cannot face it, thus we mourn.
But now is always, and though he's gone,
Remember all the things he's done?

Forgive our tears, accept our smiles
For you have wandered miles and miles
Accepting all that's mean and kind.
Heaven is yours, Philip Cline.

"Here's to Thee, our Alma Mater, Saratoga High . . .

*Another Day, Blue skies today.
As I look upon its prey, Inspection, Exreption, and much correction will be the price for one to pay.*

*And through it all continue to sprout; your friends and your enemies will bring you about.
But do not let seasons go too fast — for much will be lost that has been in the past.*

*Approaching the end as we finally do,
We look back at this our very own school,
and the life that we've led is the life we shall lead
to be all together happy
and together be freed.*

Juniors

The Junior Class has been continually adept at choosing its officers in the past three years. All have been enthusiastic and hardworking. The class has held three successful dances; a number of bake sales; a very profitable candle sale, and three car washes. A number of worthwhile projects are yet to come. The class is generally cooperative with projects, especially since this year has seen a new advisor, Mr. Bouchard, enter the class. The Class of '71 looks forward to its Senior year at S.S.H.S. and wishes the best to all

F r e s h m e n

The Freshman Class this year hopes to do much to benefit its class and school. It has already participated in the Homecoming parade, which was very successful, and plans to work in the Art Bazaar. With the cooperation of all the Freshmen, it is certain that this will be a rewarding year for the Class of '73.

Really? The what happen

*"Now we pledge ourselves anew

*We seniors had standards . . .
Remember them all?
Let us continue them, one and all
We've learned a lot from the years
we've spent
To cover our future with a protective

We may show many others young and old,
We've all come out winners,
intelligent and bold.*

Four years seem to be a very short time in relation to an entire life, but it really is amazing — the number of events that happen in such a short while. It's 1970; graduation is here; but it seems like only yesterday that we entered SSHS as freshmen — supposedly the worst freshmen ever! That may be argued, but the thing that may not be easily argued is that we have worked hard.

Among our many projects were the alumni-faculty basketball games, zip code directory and calendar sales, bake sales, and of course, the fun senior class variety show — "Everybody's Thing". All of these things would not have been possible without our advisor, Mr. Fisher. His enthusiasm and ingenuity have been amazing, and we really can't thank him enough for all of his time and effort. Our co-advisor, Mr. Haswell, can't be forgotten either, as his experience with previous senior classes has been most helpful.

Now the four short years at SSHS are over, but not the many memories for years to come. We all have our own goals in life — some may be reached, others may not. But on graduation day, one very important goal will have been attained. And we'll be lucky to have reached it at a school like SSHS.

*"All the world's a stage,
And all the men and women merely players.
They have their exits and their entrances:
And one man in his time plays many parts,
His acts being seven ages. At first the infant, Mewling and puking in the nurse's arms.
And then the whining school-boy, with his satchel
And shiny morning face, creeping like a snail
Unwillingly to school. And then the lover,
Sighing like furnace, with a woeful ballad
Made to his mistress' eyebrow. Then a soldier
Full of strange oaths, and bearded like the pard;
Jealous in honour, sudden and quick in quarrel,
Seeking the bubble reputation
Even in the cannon's mouth. And then the justice,
In fair round belly with good capon lined,
With eyes severe and beard of formal cut,
Full of wise saws and modern instances;
And so he plays his part. The sixth age shifts
Into the lean and slipper'd pantaloon,
With spectacles on nose and pouch on side;
His youthful hose, well saved, a world too wide
For his shrunk shank; and his big manly voice,
Turning again toward childish treble, pipes
And whistles in his sound. Last scene of all,
Is second childishness, and mere oblivion,
Sans teeth, sans eyes, sans taste, sans everything."*

Shakespeare

"And now we enter our fourth age . . .

"To live content with small means; to seek elegance rather than luxury, and refinement rather than fashion; to be worthy, not respectable; and wealthy, not rich; to study hard, think quietly, talk gently, act frankly; to listen to stars and birds, to babes and sages, with open heart; to bear all cheerfully, do all bravely, await occasions, hurry never. In a word, to let the spiritual, unbidden and unconscious, grow up through the common. This is to be my symphony."

William Henry Channing

*When our High School days have ended,
And we've said good-bye,
Still we'll cherish fondest memories
Of Saratoga High . . .*

*Through school activities one may find what he has searched for far and wide and cannot leave behind
A feeling of assurance, responsibility, and trust.
Our clubs have done this all too well;
The rest we must adjust.*

*"May our lives be worthy of her,
Saratoga High."*

*May we never forget our patronage and the support that they brought.
They've helped us through some bad times and helped us hold the fort.
But value will never leave us
and treasure deeply lies.
Our Worthiness we have shown her—
